OBITUARY

Wallace

[redacted]e C. [redacted]e was born in Tiffin township, Defiance county, O., December 10, 1862. Living on the farm with his parents until he grew into manhood. He received a good common school education from the country schools.

June 4th, 1890 he was united in marriage to Laura Fredericks. Eight children came to bless this union, Six of whom are living.

December 31, 1893 he was initiated in Evansport lodge No. 489 I. O. O. F. and he has tried to live up to the teachings and admonitions that he received in passing thru the several degrees. In his daily walks of life he has exemplified these teachings and his character will live in the memory of his brothers, neighbors and friends thru time to come. He was a kind and loving husband and father and was ready at a moments notice to aid his neighbors and friends in time of trouble. As his profession called him into many homes throout the country his annual visits will be missed by all. He was everybodys friend and whoever he came in contact with learned to love him and hold him in the highest esteem.

He had expressed himself several times that he was ready to go and expected to meet his loved ones on the other shore. After a few weeks of suffering he was called to that higher and better life February 17, 1919 aged 56 years, 2 months and 7 days and leaves to mourn companion four daughters, two sons, mother, three brothers, four sisters and many friends and neighbors.

The funeral was held from the St. John's M. E. church Wednesday, February 19, 1919 and the remains were laid to rest in the McCauley cemetery. The services were con-by Rev. D.A. Glaze Evansport lodge 489 IOOF. had charge of the service at the cemetery.

Bryan,Ohio, Bryan Public Library

Mr. Partee, who is a well-known farmer of Tiffin township, Defiance county, has spent his entire life in northwestern Ohio. His parents, the late Joseph and Lorinda (Kibble) Partee, were married and began their domestic life in this section of the State, making their home for many years in Williams county, where both died.

To this worthy couple were born eight children --five sons and three daughters --of whom our subject is the youngest son and seventh child. He was born in Williams county, April 2,1839, and was quite young when his parents died. In the county of his nativity he continued to reside until he attained his majority, and then came to Defiance county, locating upon the farm in Tiffin township, where has since been his home. It consists of eighty acres of arable land, which he has placed under a high state of cultivation, having also erected thereon good and substantial buildings, besides making many other useful and valuable improvements.

In Tiffin township, October 9,1861, Mr. Partee was united in marriage with Miss Anna Kinsig, who was born in Switzerland, August 5,1841, and came to America with her parents, John and Elizabeth (Myers) Kinsig. Coming direct to Ohio, the family lived for nine years in Fairfield and then removed to Tiffin township, Defiance county, where the father died ,August 12,1893. Mrs, Partee was the eldest daughter and second child in the family of seven children- three sons and four daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Partee have become a stanch supporter of the Democratic party, but has never been a politician in the sense of office seeking, though he has efficiently filled some school positions. His private interests claim the greater part of his attentions and the success that has crowned his efforts is well deserved.

In observance of their Nov. 26 golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Partee, rt. 1, Sherwood, will have a family dinner at noon Sunday in Wellman's private dining room and open house at their country home from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The Partees have three sons, Richard, Bryan, George L., Toledo, and Jack B., Defiance; two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Helen) Lybarger, Toledo, and Mrs. Richard (Jean) Whisner, Port Clinton; 11 grandchildren, and two great grandchildren. Two sons, Fay and Edison (Eddy), died in young manhood.

Mrs. Partee, 68, is the former Irene Clinker, daughter of Levi and Mary Ann Clinker, Tiffin tp. Mr. Partee, 73, is the son of Parmenus and Anna Partee, also of Tiffin tp.

The couple were married Nov. 26, 1902 in the Methodist parsonage in Defiance by the pastor, Rev. Samuel Roberts.

Following their marriage, the Partees resided on a farm in Tiffin tp. for 30 years, then moved to a farm on rt. 6, Defiance. After six years there they bought their present 100-acre farm in Farmer tp.

In addition to farming his own land, Mr. Partee farms 40 acres for his son, Jack. For 50 years he also did farm ditching, having sold out only last spring to Willard Cooley of Tiffin tp.

Fire cleanup begins

By PETER SPUDICH

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The top arson investigator for the Cleveland Fire Department said today experts believe Thursday's $600,000 fire that destroyed 30 houses and two businesses was deliberately set.

"We believe it was incendiary, that it was a deliberately set fire," said fire investigation unit head Robert Gold. "The police arson unit is working with us and it is still under investigation."

Councilman James Boyd's statement that gasoline cans — some partially filled — were found in an area from which two boys were seen running away was true in part, Gold said.

"They were at the scene of an earlier fire near that area. We have two gasoline cans in our possession, but I don't want to make any statement about how far we've got in the investigation."

Amos Pippen, one of up to 100 persons left homeless by the five-alarm blaze, said, "If things ever get back to normal, it will be a miracle."

Three firemen were injured, none seriously, while battling the blaze — whipped by 30-mile-an-hour winds — and an unidentified man also sustained second-degree burns as a result of Thursday's holocaust — the worst here in more than three decades.

"It's one of the worst disasters I've ever seen in my 28 years on the fire department," said Second Battalion Fire Chief Albert Sedlak. "The ruins kinda remind me of what I saw during World War II.

"Due to the lack of water and the 30-mile-an-hour winds, I'm surprised it didn't go farther," added Sedlak, whose men were hard-pressed for water to [illegible]le the inferno because of old water mains leading to fire hydrants, some of them 88-years-old, whose six-inch underground pipes have corroded.

Pippen said he was on his way to work when he looked out his window and saw "all this light on the next street."

"It was quite a while before they could get up to my part of the street and we written to me in the past 15-20 years. I'm afraid I haven't finished my searching on the census records for my Joseph.

I only have 1860 in McLean Co, Cheney's Grove Township, Illinois by himself at age 24 showing he was born in Ohio. Mother said since both of his parents died by the time he was 7 years old he was sent from brother to brother to live until he was on his own. She thought he was with William in 1850, so I will search for that next. I don't know the timelines of when Williams co, Defiance Co, etc were created so that has been a hindrance.

He was at the Battle of Vicksburg. His name is on a bronze plaque at the Illinois Memorial at Vicksburg Nat'l Park as Joseph "Purtee". The Civil War Pension Index on the internet shows him applying Apr 14 1891 as a resident of Kansas. His widow Millie H. Partee applied Jan 13, 1908, just 12 days after his death, still in Kansas.

I have a picture of their grave monument in Caldwell City Cemetery in Caldwell Kansas. Other notes she has are "John Partee, a Frenchman, went from Kentucky to live in Ohio in the late 1760's. His son, also named John, was born in 1765 in Kentucky, and he married Nancy Williams. They had a son named Joseph Partee who married Clarinda Kibble and became the parents of Joseph Parteethe husband of Millie Hannah Vanscoyoc."

Mother said she thought his father Joseph Partee Sr was buried in French Cemetary in Pulaski Co, Ohio. Can you confirm that?
I have no information on Clarinda Kibble or Nancy Williams. If you have any I would appreciate you sharing or knowing where to go to get it.

My husband, Larry, is the Georgia State Registrar for the Sons of the American Revolution. We don't find John on the SAR index. Do you know if any Partee son that was recognized for service in the Revolutionary War or War of 1812?

county, Maryland, January 24, 1808, and died June 6, 1876. On February 10, 1829, he married Susanna Canaga, who was born in 1811, and they then settled on a farm in Rumley township, Harrison county, Ohio, nearly all of which he cleared. They had a family of four children: Sarah, Maria, Elizabeth and James. The mother of these was called from earth May 17, 1872. The father was an active member of the Lutheran Church for many years, and was a charter member of the one at Jewett, Harrison county. For several years he served as trustee of his township, also as captain of militia at all the general trainings of the early days, and the sword which he then wore is now in the possession of his son.

Jacob Stahl, father of William Stahl, and grandfather of Mrs. A. L. Ridenour, was born August 13, 1784, in Maryland. He married Elizabeth Shilling, and to their union were born ten children, named, respectively, Elizabeth, William, John, Margaret, Lydia, Mary, Matilda, Catherine, Susanna and James. Jacob Stahl came to Rumley township, Harrison county, Ohio, in 1816, and settled in Section 36.

Soon after his marriage Augustus L. Ridenour settled in Milford township, Defiance county, where he resided until January, 1878, and he has since made his home in Section 30, Farmer township. He owns a fine farm of two hundred acres, which he has improved in a handsome and substantial manner. As a good citizen he takes an active part in all movements of public interest, and his influence is always felt on the side of progress. He and his family are deeply interested in religious work, and are prominent members of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

PARMENUS PARTEE.

Mr. Partee, who is a well-known farmer of Tiffin township, Defiance county, has spent his entire life in northwestern Ohio. His parents, the late Joseph and Lorinda (Kibble) Partee, were married and began their domestic life in this section of the State, making their home for many years in Williams county, where both died.

To this worthy couple were born eight children—five sons and three daughters—of whom our subject is the youngest son and seventh child. He was born in Williams county, April 2, 1839, and was quite young when his parents died. In the county of his nativity he continued to reside until he attained his majority, and then came to Defiance county, locating upon the farm in Tiffin township, where has since been his home. It consists of eighty acres of arable land, which he has placed under a high state of cultivation, having also erected thereon good and substantial buildings, besides making many other useful and valuable improvements.

In Tiffin township, October 9, 1861, Mr. Partee was united in marriage with Miss Anna Kinsig, who was born in Switzerland, August 5, 1841, and came to America with her parents, John and Elizabeth (Myers) Kinsig. Coming direct to Ohio, the family lived for nine years in Fairfield, and then removed to Tiffin township, Defiance county, where the father died August 12, 1893. Mrs. Partee was the eldest daughter and second child in the family of seven children—three sons and four daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Partee have become the parents of seven children, namely: William F., John W., Mary J. (now the wife of Ephraim Webb); Celia A. (wife of Elmer Diehl); Charles H., Rose B., and Edward B.

EVANSPORT PARTEE

Evansport Man Collector Of Pipe Organs

EVANSPORT — Owning pipe organs is no pipe-dream to Deane L. Partee, an Evansport hobbyist. He has a collection of organs dating to the 1700's.

Mr. Partee' unusual avocation provides a rare treat; musical artistry that combines the senses of hearing and seeing.

The 5000 pipes of his giant five-manual organ are a beautiful spectacle to view while listening to the resonant and melodious sounds they produce at the talented hands of the owner and builder.

A devotee of fine organ music, Mr. Partee enjoys many relaxing hours seated at the huge electrical console. Tones range from the vibrating blast of bass pipes to the ringing staccato of a xylophone attachment.

But playing the organs is only one part of the hobby. Collecting, dismantling and rebuilding them consume a major portion of his spare time.

His many instruments include one organ purchased recently from the Christ Lutheran Church, Continental. It is an ornate English-made pipe organ of 18th century vintage.

HIS HOMEMADE ORGAN IS MOST PRIZED

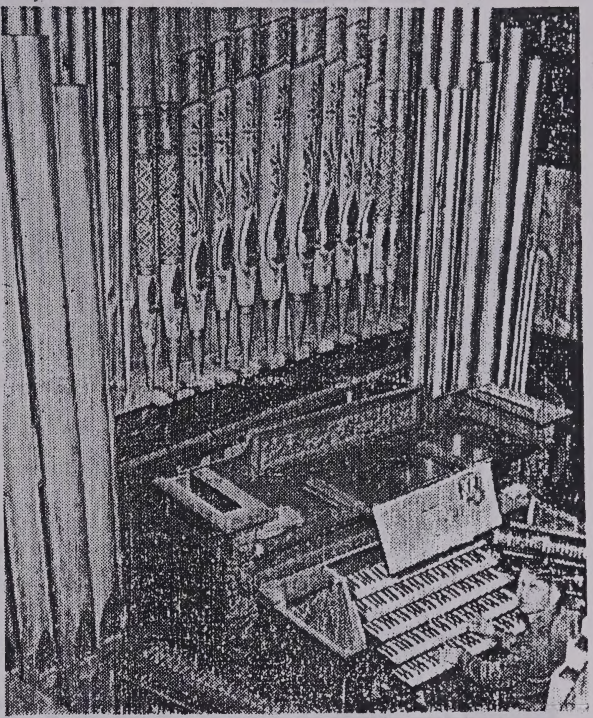
Although he takes pride in all his collection, Mr. Partee considers his homemade giant organ the most priceless of his possessions.

Into its massive framework have gone the parts of five church and theater organs. Hundreds of tiny wires tie the five manuals of the electric console to the nearly 5000 pipes, stacked in about 50 ranks.

The organ chamber which houses the pipes is a labyrinth of wood and metal. There are many chests (wooden boxes through which air travels to the pipes) and shutters (used to control volume) which complete the array necessary for the organ's operation.

Mr. Partee uses three 3-horsepower motors to generate the air supply needed to force sound from the pipes, some up to 16 feet tall.

Only three of the keyboards of the console are in operation at present. Mr. Partee estimates it will require from three to four years of part-time work to finish wiring the five-manual console with all 5000 pipes.



GIANT PIPE ORGAN—Intricate wiring, a maze of pipes and hundreds of man-hours of exacting work have gone into this mammoth pipe organ. Responsible for project is Deane L. Partee, an Evansport resident whose hobby is pipe organs. He spends much of his time in the labyrinth of his organ chamber, built into a portion of the barn he is converting to a home. LEARNED TO PLAY AS CHAPLAIN'S AID

Mr. Partee has the patience and desire to complete the tedious job. His interest in organs has been strong since the early years of World War II.

He was serving as a chaplain's assistant in the Army when he first learned to play an organ, usually at Sunday services.

His fascination for pipe organs and organ music remained with him in civilian life when he returned to Evansport.

Soon Mr. Partee decided to purchase an organ. He bought one from a friend who was an antique dealer. The organ was installed at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Partee, Evansport, where he lives.

However, it rapidly became apparent the organ was too small to produce the tonal variations which are so much an ingredient of fine music. So in 1945 Mr. Partee bought the basic part of what is now his giant organ.

Through trading, buying and a combination of both, Mr. Partee enlarged his giant organ to such an extent it became necessary to find new quarters for his hobby.

BUYS BARN TO HOUSE ORGANS

He finally bought a large barn, located a few blocks away from his parents' home. Now he is converting it to a house for both his resident and his pipe organs.

One end of the building is a floorless 30x30-foot room with a 30-foot ceiling. This is used for the organ chamber.

A stairway divides the chamber from the remainder of the house. This area has the conventional two floors and will be made into living quarters. All rooms are being pine-paneled.

she may be causing the symptoms herself.

She often suffered silently, not letting on that she was in pain or fatigued. She tried hard to stay awake in class because she would be made fun of if she fell asleep. Even when she would suffer from debilitating headaches or was in pain and vomiting blood, she knew it didn't do much good to complain.

"You learn you have to be tough and suck it up," said Fadling.

"I brought her to doctors," said Rapovich. "There's still a lot of guilt left over for me."

"It's not your fault, dad," she told her father.

At 18, she quit taking antidepressants and for the first time, she said she felt she was clear-headed. But she continued to be very sick. Over the years, she has suffered from brain swelling and has been hospitalized many times. In 2004, a Florida oncologist told her she had cancer, or lymphoma. She was later found not to have cancer at all.

She and her husband, daughter was suffering from the disease, too. It was devastating.

"I fought really hard to get her here," Fadling said, sobbing. "You fight to bring your child into this world and you think everything will be OK if I can just get her here. I was so naive. I had no idea. I would do anything for her."

"As a mom, you just want your kids to be healthy and happy, running and playing. You feel guilty. If I had known I had late stage Lyme disease and I would pass this on to my daughter, I would have adopted. I would never had done this to her intentionally. I wouldn't have done that on purpose. Not to my daughter. When I see her suffering, she got it from me. It's hard. Hard to watch your child suffer."

Fadling's pregnancy, coupled with the Lyme disease, caused her endocrine system to go "haywire." Her muscle twitches, spasms, night sweats, dizziness and pain grew worse. She couldn't think clearly and would forget things.
